

Homepage

News

Community

Opinion

Spo

Ledger Homepage

Archived Issues

RSS Feeds

Sunday, April 19, 2009

View this week's Classifi

Pinwheels for the powerless

Erika Neldner | Ledger-News

Volunteers with the Anna Crawford Children's Center and Court Appointed Special Advocates put out pinwheels to commemorate victims of child abuse for Child Abuse Awareness month, which is April. In Cherokee County, there were 1,852 reports of child abuse made to the Department of Family and Children Services, and 331 were substantiated. Pictured putting out pinwheels are, from left: Jacquie Sebastiao, Brit Vincent, Gwynne Maffett, Melanie Young, of the local Court Appointed Special Advocate Association, Amy Economopoulos and Roteasha Franklin.